

What Time Is It By YOUR Stomach

If Your Stomach Does Not Strike
"Meal Time!" Three Times a Day, It Usually Means Dyspepsia.

HOW TO BE HAPPY-HUNGRY.

As a rule all hours of the day look alike, and feel alike, to the dyspeptic. There is no hankering for breakfast, no gnawing for lunch, and no mouth-watering for dinner. Dis-just takes the place of desire, and the clock itself at mealtime reflects the owner's grumpy face.

If before breakfast, before dinner and before supper you do not feel a happy-hungry feeling and longing for food, and feel that you could eat almost anything but before you, you have symptom of dyspepsia.

If during your meals you still have an aversion to food, or feel hungry and not hungry at the same time, you have a very pronounced case of dyspepsia.

If after your meals you feel bloated, or gassy, or you have heartburn and pains in your stomach, or you feel gurgly, brush rising in your throat, you have a chronic case of dyspepsia, and you have had it a long time, probably without realizing it.

For all these things there is a sure cure—a cure that will make mealtime an awaited pleasure, and the meal itself a soothing luxury. This is true—because the cure, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, contain just the elements which a good, strong, healthy stomach has.

Each little tablet is enough to digest 3,000 grains of food, thoroughly and well—just as though you had no stomach at all.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets actually do all the work of a healthy stomach. They digest if your stomach can't. They digest everything.

Take one or two after each meal and know what it is to have the luxury of a perfect digestion, and stop irritation, belching, bloating and that "lump of lead" feeling. They cure dyspepsia indigestion and all stomach troubles. They contain absolutely nothing harmful. They are made of golden seal, diastase and similar digestive agents.

Try several today and let your stomach be convinced, if your mind be at ease, and your face be rosy.

LORD KELVIN, NOTED SCIENTIST, DIES

FAMOUS INVENTOR AND MATHE-MATICIAN PASSES AWAY.

FULL OF YEARS AND HONORS

In the Realm of Electricity, Magnetism and Heat He was One of the Greatest Investigators of His Time.

Glasgow, Dec. 18.—Lord Kelvin, the noted scientist, died Monday. William Thomson, first Lord Kelvin, was born at Belfast, Ireland, June 26, 1824. He was a celebrated mathematician and physicist, and occupied the chair of natural philosophy in Glasgow university from 1846 to 1890. He was knighted in 1892 and was created Baron Kelvin in 1892.

In the domains of heat, electricity and magnetism he was one of the great investigators of the century. He invented a number of instruments used in navigation and deep sea exploration and took a prominent part in the laying of the first submarine cables in the Atlantic.

For his efforts in behalf of science Lord Kelvin has been decorated many times, having been a grand officer of the Legion of Honor of France, a member of the Prussian order, Pour Le Merite, and commander of the Order of King Leopold of Belgium. He received honors, also, from the Japanese and other governments.

In 1902 Lord Kelvin visited the United States. At that time he was deeply interested in wireless telegraphy and aerodynamics. Of the former he said:

"Wireless telegraphy is one of the world's most remarkable inventions. I believe that the day will come when it will prove of great commercial value."

The total value of Ohio's manufactured products for 1906 is given as $1,098,535,149, an increase of $124,836,655 over that of 1905. There were 358,292 males and 66,140 females employed, an increase of 52,137 males and 8,457 females. The total capital invested was $494,559,455.

PRUNING KNIFE TO BE APPLIED

TO PUBLIC EXPENDITURES BY THE PRESENT CONGRESS.

DECREASE IN THE REVENUE

During November and December was Nearly $4,000,000—Appropriations for Military Purposes are to Be Cut Down.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Chairman Taft, of the house committee on appropriations, which was appointed Monday by Speaker Cannon, effected its organization Tuesday by the appointment of sub-committees. At the close of the committee's first meeting Chairman Taft dictated the following statement:

"The committee on appropriations and congress are confronted with a situation which will require a very careful revision of the estimates submitted for public expenditures for the next fiscal year ending June 30, 1909, in order to keep the appropriations within the possible and estimated revenues of the government."

"The estimates submitted at the beginning of the last session for the current year totaled $395,950,643. The estimates for the next fiscal year, submitted at the beginning of this session in the book of estimates totaled $396,549,288, or an increase in the estimated expenditures for the next fiscal year over the current year of $598,645. The estimated revenue for the next fiscal year is $378,123,911, while the actual revenue, including postal revenue received during the last fiscal year, which total revenue was larger than that of any previous year in the history of the government—was only $446,725,339."

"It will be seen therefore that on the basis of the estimated expenditures and the actual revenue for the next fiscal year, the expenditures as estimated exceed the prospective revenue by $118,825,377. This excess does not include estimates for the regular deficiency and miscellaneous appropriations, which for the current year amount to $13,147,899. From this excess total of $118,825,377, should be deducted $25,000,000 which is included in the estimated expenditure for the redemption of national bank notes. This expenditure is not made out of the current revenues, but out of the statutory fund obtained from national banks, which fund is not carried as part of the government's revenues."

"Deducting the $25,000,000 still leaves a deficiency of $93,000,000 between the estimated expenditures and the estimated revenue and shows the necessity for a practical revision of the estimates submitted by the several sub-committees having jurisdiction of the appropriations for the next fiscal year, in order to keep expenditures for that year within possible revenues and thus avoid a deficiency."

"It also shows the practical impossibility of congress at this session authorizing new governmental services or the undertaking of new projects, appropriations for which would have to be met out of the revenue for the next fiscal year."

In view of the almost certain decrease in estimated revenues for the next fiscal year, and also in view of the fact that war does not threaten this country, it may be stated on the highest authority that congress in revising the estimated expenditures will at this session endeavor to reduce most of all the budget for the maintenance of the military establishment, rather than put the pruning knife to civil estimates."

The decrease in government revenues for the last 15 days of November and the first 15 days of December was $3,878,840. Members of the appropriations committee think that this rate of decrease from the revenues for the first part of the current year will not grow less. If this shall be so, a fiscal deficit of $31,000,000 will have accrued by June 30, 1908. There was, however, at the close of the last fiscal year a surplus on hand of revenue over expenditure of $84,000,000 and there is in the national bank depositories $262,574,319 due the United States.

DELVING IN THE MINE'S DEPTHS

RESCUE PARTIES AT YOLANDE
BATTLE AGAINST ODDS.

THE PUMPS WERE DISABLED.

Forty-two Corpses Have Been Recovered and 19 More are in the Mine—
A Majority of the Victims Were Negroes.

Yolande, Ala., Dec. 18.—At 8 o'clock last night 42 bodies had been taken from the Yolande mines in which an explosion occurred Monday. Nineteen more are reported to be in the mines, making a total of 61 victims. All day the rescue parties toiled in the mines against fearful odds. The hot air and smoke from the explosion made it difficult to get into the lower entries and several of the rescue party were overcome and had to be brought to the surface for fresh air.

No one is yet able to tell what caused the explosion. The theory most generally accepted is that one of the men allowed a stick of dynamite to explode, which stirred up the dust and in this turn exploded, spreading death and destruction through the whole mine. The theory is borne out by the fact that the entire front of one man's body was torn away. His backbone alone remained and one leg was partially torn off. Men at the mine contend that this man was probably holding a stick of dynamite when it went off.

The pumps were disabled by the explosion and the rescuers are making superhuman efforts to get the bodies out of the lower slopes before the water rises over them.

Twenty-six men who were in the mine at the time of the explosion made their escape. Among these was Steve Stofko. He was down the slope in the fourth entry when the explosion occurred. Six other men were with him and all except Stofko made a dash for the air passage. Stofko instead made for the main entry and when he saw the light of day in the distance drank the last of his coffee, took a cigar and walked out calmly with his face wreathed in smiles.

One negro of the original party escaped through a dog hole from the air passage into the main entry. The other five are now huddled together in death in the air passage and the rescue parties have been unable to reach them.

Negroes were the greatest sufferers from the disaster, as less than a third of the victims are white.

Goldfield in Darkness.

Goldfield, Nev., Dec. 18.—The power wires of the Nevada-California Power Co. went down Tuesday afternoon and Goldfield was without electric light or power last night. Many rumors are afloat, the most reliable being that the wires were cut at Palmetto, 25 miles distant. Many people are alarmed and an effort is being made to have Gen. Funston take charge of the camp and patrol it with troops. Three mines were opened Tuesday with men brought from other points and those who have signed the agreement of the Mine Owners' association. The total number of men at work Tuesday was about 160.

The Lid Will Be Lifted.

New York, Dec. 18.—The board of aldermen on Tuesday adopted an ordinance which will permit Sunday theatrical exhibitions with certain features common to week-day shows eliminated. The ordinance now goes to Mayor McClellan, who is expected to sign it not later than Friday, making possible on next Sunday a resumption practically of the old order of things which existed prior to Justice O'Gorman's supreme court interpretation of the Sunday closing law. Since the court's decision New Yorkers have experienced two "Blue Sundays" so far as public entertainments were concerned.

A Padrone Is Arrested.

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 18.—Special Officer Seraphic, of the United States immigration department, on Tuesday arrested Constantine Santis on a warrant charging him with attempting to land on United States soil immigrants who are forbidden to enter. The arrest was made after an investigation lasting a month and the government will show that Santis operated bootblack stands in New Orleans, Pensacola and Mobile with aliens who were paid at the rate of $90 per year.

The load began to shift and Howell got down to rearrange it when a bomb fell and exploded at his feet. His right arm was blown off and his recovery is doubtful.

Certificates are Loaned Illegally.

Columbus, O., Dec. 18.—Two certified pharmacists have been cited by Dr. Frost, secretary of the state board of pharmacy, to appear before the board in January and show cause why their certificates should not be canceled for abuse of the privilege carried with them. Dr. Frost said that many certified pharmacists who have retired from the drug business have "loaned" their certificates out to druggists who do not have certificates, and possibly could not stand the examination given by the board. No attempt is made to use the name of the proper holder of the certificate, but the certificate, usually framed, is hung up in the drug store and thus answers all purposes.

Ashland, O., Dec. 18.—Exceptions to the final account of Banker George A. Ullman as executor of the $93,000 estate of Mrs. Mary E. Freer were filed Tuesday in probate court by the Ashland county commissioners. The county children's home to which Mrs. Freer willed a 93-acre farm, was residuary legatee, but the executor's account showed only $1.44 for the home in addition to the farm. The commissioners except to the payment of $2,400 to Common Pleas Judge Campbell; over $3,200 to ex-Judge McCray; over $1,200 to State Senator Frank N. Patterson and to Executor Ullman receiving over $9,300 for services in addition to 10 per cent. the will gave him.

No Huge Fees for Experts.

Columbus, O., Dec. 18.—Experts and alienists won't secure heavy fees for testimony in murder and other cases in Ohio if the supreme court can help it, for the court looks on all witnesses alike, whether they be experts or not, according to a decision handed down Tuesday. The decision sustained State Auditor Guilbert in the case of Ohio on relation to the commissioners of Franklin county against Guilbert, in his refusal to allow a fee of $25 each to Drs. Parker and Baldwin, who testified in the case. They therefore got only the legal fees of ordinary witnesses.

Samuel Van Gundy lowered his rifle, but it was discharged, the bullet striking the father's heart.

Canton, O., Dec. 18.—Distant relatives who were cut off in the will of Jeremiah Bender, a wealthy farmer who died leaving an estate of $125,000, on Tuesday filed a petition to break the will. They charge that the farm superintendent, to whom Bender left a $10,000 farm, and the housekeeper, to whom Bender left a $15,000 farm, exercised undue influence over the old man to make his will in their favor.
